About This Event: This is a content rich event dedicated to how distance education can and has made major improvements in elementary and high school educational experiences. SAU 55 will show how distance education has expanded their educational content. KBZ Communications, located in Doylestown, PA will have videoconferencing and streaming media products available on-site for your use. Grant experts from Learning On Line will discuss grants that are available to fund your dream distance educational projects. You will have the opportunity to work with grant experts to help you define the steps necessary for you to apply for the grant you select.

To Register: RSVP via email to Abby Collins abby@seresc.net or call 603-206-6806 by 2/4/08. There is no charge to attendees.
